

Phrase Functions and Theme Types – Page 1

NAME: _____

1. Define the following phrase function labels, including the typical components found in each:

- Antecedent: _____

- Cadential: _____

- Consequent: _____

- Continuation: _____

- Presentation: _____

2. Place the five phrase function labels (listed above) into the correct location on the grid below, indicating their respective thematic functions and the Classical theme types in which they generally appear. Use each phrase function label only once. (Hints: Only one phrase function label will be used in "Both". Also, four of the grid boxes will be left blank.)

Choices: Antecedent, Cadential, Consequent, Continuation, Presentation

	Initiating Function	Medial Function	Closing Function
Theme Type: Sentence
Theme Type: Period
Theme Type: Both

3. Describe one type of Hybrid theme, giving the phrase functions that comprise it. (Accurate hybrid type numbering such as "Hybrid #2" or "Hybrid #3" is not necessary.)

(continued)

Phrase Functions and Theme Types – Page 2

4. The following musical excerpt is either a sentence or a period. Which is it? _____
Label the phrase functions and the cadences on the music below to support your answer.

